

Harley Barnes

J. J. Harrison

W. F. Smith

J. B. Collacott

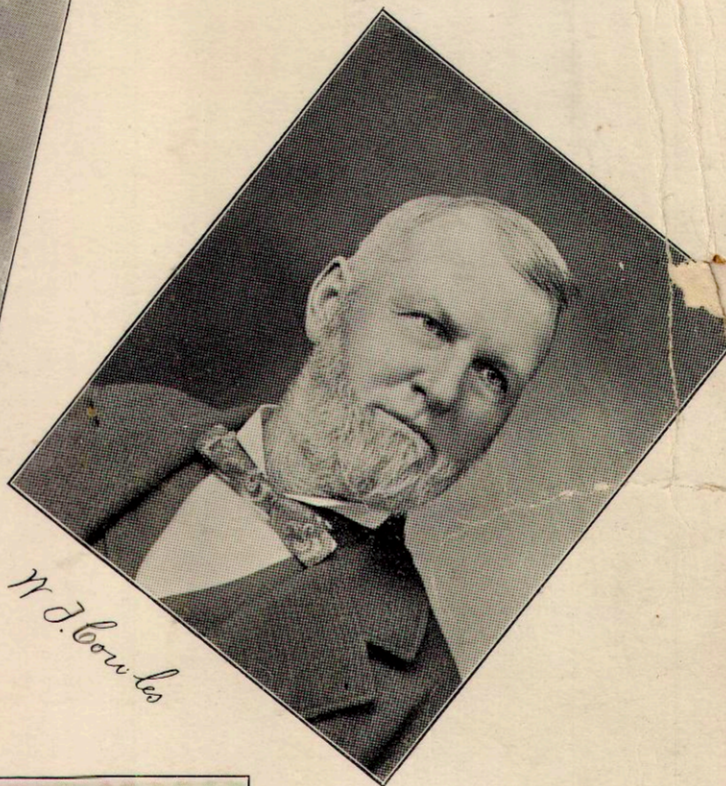

W. L. Baker

W. T. Cowles

Wm. G. Storrs

Robert George

OFFICERS.

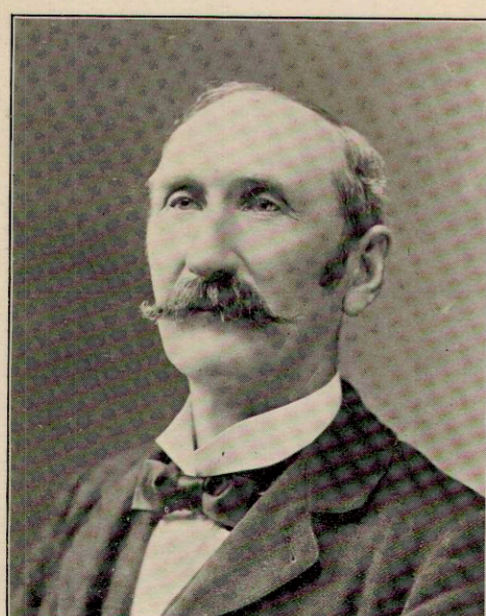

J. J. HARRISON, President.
 HARLEY BARNES, Vice President.
 J. B. COLLACOTT, Vice President.
 W. F. SMITH, Sec'y and Treas.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

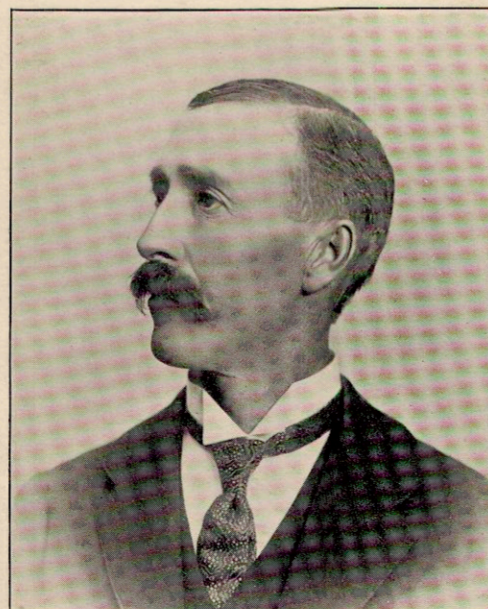

J. J. HARRISON,
 W. F. SMITH,
 HARLEY BARNES,
 W. L. BAKER,
 S. R. KING,
 W. T. COWLES.

W. L. Baker

W. T. Cowles

Wm. G. Storrs

DIRECTORS.

J. J. HARRISON,
 HARLEY BARNES,
 W. L. BAKER,
 W.
 J. B. COLLACOTT,
 WM. G. STORRS,
 ROBT. GEORGE,
 GEO. H. SHEPHERD,
 E. D. KEENE

THE histories of the great financial institutions of the world, form, if written separately, a large part of the earthly record. And so of a nation, a city or a village, without sound financial institutions we should be like a ship without a rudder or a compass, wandering aimlessly about upon the great sea of business, victims of the winds of bankruptcy and the waves of financial ruin. The Dollar Savings Bank Company had its origin in the minds of some of the best and ablest business men of this section of the State, men whom a wide range of business relations had fitted to manage successfully the institutions they sought to establish. With such men as these to manage the affairs its success was assured from the start. It was incorporated under the State law and commenced business April 17th, 1893, with a paid-up capital of $50,000. The officers and directors are J. J. Harrison, President; Harley Barnes, Vice President; Collacott, Vice President; W. F. Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, W. L. Baker, W. T. Cowles, S. R. King, Wm. G. Storrs, Robert George, E. D. Keener, Geo. H. This Bank has a deposit of $525,000, surplus $25,000, undivided profits $5,000. The above statement shows the confidence the public has in the stability of this institution. Deposits received from $1.00 upwards, and four per cent. interest is paid on all deposits in the savings department. always assured of considerate and courteous treatment when doing business with this one of the strongest and soundest financial institutions in